Citing lecture notes

If you are citing lecture notes, treat them like a personal communication. The Journal of the American Ceramic Society (JAmCerS) style guidelines recommend that personal communications be treated as other sources are—that is, with a superscript number in the text, and then listed sequentially in the references.

As the JAmCerS guidelines do not give an example citation, use this format:

Author. Title [lecture notes]. 2018 Feb 12.

Example:

Note: The date of the lecture is used as the “publication” date.
